Disposal of Sewerage.

CITY HEALTH OFFICER TERNAN, OF EDMONTON, TALKS HOT AIR.

The following resolution was passed at the late Municipal convention held at Medicine Hat:

Moved by A. T. Stephenson, of Red Deer, and Mayor Mills, of Strathcona. "That this convention while recognizing the importance of dealing scientifically with the matter of sewerage and realizing that when the population of the country has grown denser and larger populations reside on the banks of our rivers, the reduction of sewerage to the purity of drinking water will become a consummation to be discussed, this convention is of the opinion that at the present stage of the development of this country the requirements of the provincial health act in this regard are entirely too stringent, and compliance with the same would entail upon the municipalities of the province at large an unnecessary expense tending to the discouragement of the installation of water works and sewerage systems. Therefore, this convention is of the opinion that the provincial health act should be amended to meet the requirements of existing conditions, and that the executive of the union wait upon the government of Alberta urging the necessity of staying all the proceedings in this regard and connection under the act until proper enquiries have been made and all parties heard."

Is there anything wrong with this resolution? Read it again. The delegates recognize the importance of the question, but they only want time to consider the matter. The act will certainly tend to discourage construction of sewerage systems in this west. Nineteen out of twenty cases of fever in the country is directly traceable to no sewerage system at all.

"These people do not realize what the country loses in money value by the presence of typhoid fever, leaving out all question of human life," said Medical Health Officer Dr. Terman to a Bulletin representative this morning when shown the resolution published today passed by the Medicine Hat meeting of the Union of the Alberta Municipalities, with reference to the disposal of sewerage.

The resolution states that while recognizing the importance of scientific disposal of sewerage, the opinion of the convention is that in the present stage of the development of the country the requirements of the Provincial Health act are entirely too stringent and compliance would incur a large and unnecessary expense. The resolution also calls for amendment of the present health act and the executive are asked to wait on the Government of Alberta urging the stay of all proceedings until proper enquiries have been made.

PROPER ENQUIRIES ALREADY MADE. "The resolution from its wording appears as if it had been drawn up by a body of illiterate farmers," Dr. Terman continued. "The government has already made proper enquiries and have carefully looked into the entire question before introducing the bill at the last session."

Dr. Terman continuing, pointed out that the state makes provision for the safety of human life and the cities and towns of the west should not be allowed to jeopardize the public health by the contamination of the rivers and streams.

THE OBVIOUS MOTIVE. "The convention, from the tenor of the resolution, was evidently consulting its own present day pocket rather than the welfare of the country."

"If this country could only realize what it would mean to be clear of typhoid fever, or enteric as it is more properly called, no cost would be considered too great to rid the west of the disease."

"The prairie west is particularly adapted to the 'seeding' of typhoid fever and if it becomes permanently settled it can, perhaps never be rooted out. Years ago this country was entirely free from typhoid and when the population was small there was very little of the disease."

TYPHOID DEFERS IMMIGRATION

"The fact that typhoid exists in the west has a deterring effect on immigration and is constantly used in the east as an argument against the western provinces."

"If we can wipe out this disease, as the new health act of Alberta will do much to accomplish, no greater benefit could be accomplished. One of the first means for the eradication of typhoid fever is to keep the rivers and streams pure, and this can only be effected by scientific disposal of the sewage of the cities and towns."

The delegates to the convention were without doubt among the most intelligent men the province can produce. They realized that it was necessary to establish sewerage systems in the west, to purify the towns springing into existence.

That the stringent regulations introduced by the government will have a strong deterrent effect on the municipalities thinking of installing such systems, there can be no doubt.

It would be as well for the government to allow the men who control our municipal systems to give them a tip once in a while and not pay too much attention to the gentleman who has recently been appointed health officer of the city of Edmonton and who may perhaps be slightly carried away by the exuberance of his verbosity, as an old and very wise statesman once remarked.

CHARGES PROVEN AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT.

The main purpose of the series of speeches which the Conservative leader, Mr. Borden, began at Halifax, about a month ago, was to lay before the people his own views on public questions and his own policy for meeting the public needs, but it was quite inevitable that he should make reference to the exposures of the government's maladministration which have been made in parliament and out of it for years past. The reporter of a Toronto paper summarizes some of the charges which have been proven against the government and which have been referred to in some of Mr. Borden's recent speeches. The reporter's summary is as follows:

"1. The extravagance on the steamer Arctic; sample case, $10,000 paid for pemican which an expert avers could be supplied at a profit for $2,800.

"2. The Moncton land deal; $5,000 paid to a middleman for lands which he had picked up immediately before for $1,300.

"3. The Merwin rake-offs, Merwin in one case bought goods for $11,000 and re-sold them at once to the government for $18,000.

"4. A wharf built on the St. Lawrence to benefit the timber limits of a Liberal M. P.

"5. The spending of $15,000 for a wharf at St. Joseph, Ontario, which no vessel has ever used, at a place where the yearly public office receipts are $16.

"6. The Saskatchewan Valley Land company transaction, with its conjectured profits to the company of $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

"7. A general indictment of the manipulation of Western timber lands, by the opening of the tenders in private.

"8. The Blairmore townsie case.

"9. The Robins Irrigation company lease.

"10. The Galway Cattle company grazing lease.

"11. The North Atlantic Trading company contract.

"12. The Wagner case; Wagner was paid a salary while still serving in prison for stealing, and, on release, was given two government positions, at double the former pay.

"13. The appointment of J. B. Jackson to be commercial agent at Leeds.

"14. The Preston-Jury quarrel; both men being retained in government service."

The references here are not merely to vague charges, but to proved facts reflecting most seriously upon the government, and to which the government has been able to make no defence.

Nor are these things exceptional they are in fact but specimens of the general maladministration that has prevailed in and characterized the Laurier government for years past.

Quite recently the government seems to have taken some alarm at the mass of proved offenses and public judgments against it, and to have instructed Aylesworth and Pugsley to go and hurl belittlings at the Conservative leader and his friends, and hence to deceive foolish people who are misled by loud talk. The Laurier orators in all their vociferating are careful to say nothing definite enough to be taken into a court of law. And they offer no proof of anything. It is all mere 'you're another' tactics of guttersnipes, and simply disgraceful on the part of Ministers of the Crown.

But if what Mr. Aylesworth is now insinuating be true, what has he been doing for years past? Why has he not had this alleged Conservative corruption fully investigated in parliament? The public will have little difficulty in answering this question, but the answer will not be much to the minister's credit.

The Moncton Times says.

"Mr. Borden in his triumphal tour of Canada has made out a strong indictment of the government for incompetence, graft and electoral wrong doing."

To break the force of this indictment the minister of justice recently made the cowardly statement that if what he had been told by somebody whom he did not name, was true, Mr. Borden he is making throughout Canada a campaign fund of half a million dollars in the last election.

Meers Aylesworth and Pugsley will doubtless have an opportunity of making good in parliament.

Mr. Borden has made in parliament many times the statement that he is making throughout Canada a campaign fund of half a million dollars in the last election. He has never shown any disposition to seek quarter from the enemy nor to shield his own supporters who may be guilty of or charged with wrong doing.

In fact he has sought by every means to have the fullest investigation and has been met at every point by the government's suppression brigade.

As the matter stands at present the opposition have a decided advantage. It has been proven in court, in the case of one cabinet minister, Mr. Hyman, that three fourths of the votes polled for him were paid for at the rate of ten dollars each.

In the case of another cabinet minister Mr. Fielding, it has been shown in court that polling districts were provided at the rate of a dollar per head for men women and children, conservatives as well as liberals, or say two dollars per head, or ten dollars per family for the portion that voted on the government side.

There are over two hundred constituencies in the Dominion and a fund of half a million dollars would give less than $2,500 for each. This amount might be expended legitimately, and Mr. Ames who represents one of the Montreal divisions, admitted a legitimate expenditure of $7,000 in preparing for his election and taking measures to prevent his opponents from stealing the seat.

But if Mr. Aylesworth and Mr. Pugsley have evidence of a conservative corruption fund of half a million dollars or any other sum let them produce the proof. They have the advantage of Mr. Borden in that the machinery of parliament is in their own hands."

HON. MR. AYLESWORTH'S
"WITHERING REPLY" TO THE OPPOSITION LEADER.

Under the above caption, the Halifax Chronicle publishes a summary of a speech of the minister of justice at Essex in the course of which he is reported as saying:

"I said before in referring to Mr. Borden, that he had better look to his own case. I said what I am prepared to uphold anywhere and before any tribunal in this country that certain statements of his in the Halifax election case said, they could prove with regard to Mr. Borden's own connection with corrupt practices at the late Dominion general elections had been submitted to me and I expressed my opinion on such statements as my lawyer might say that I repeat to day, that if these things were established at the trial, R. L. Borden would stand disqualified for eight years from the House of Commons in Canada."

That "IF" of Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's is a "withering" facility "IF" the petitioners against Mr. Borden have any evidence that will "disqualify" him from sitting in the house of commons for eight years, why didn't they produce it at the date fixed for the case in Halifax?

Why did they move heaven and earth to prevent the trial going on?

Why did they appeal to the supreme court of Canada on another technicality and thus prevent the possibility of proving Mr. Borden guilty of corruption? The most "withering" thing the liberals could have done was to produce the evidence when the case was in court a few weeks ago and when the if would cut no ice. "IF" they had the evidence, they certainly would have produced it.

The fact that the liberals made no attempt to produce any such evidence, that they made it impossible for any evidence of corruption to be produced on either side, is the most "withering reply" that can be made to Mr. Aylesworth's guff and bluff.

DR. MACRAE, CALGARY TALKS.

At the recent meeting of the Conservatives of Calgary, Dr. MacRae addressed the meeting. He has never taken any particular part in politics up to this time but he now thinks it is time for a change. He said the telegraph the telephone and the railway systems should be government controlled, and he cited the fact that Prussia which country has government owned railways, shows a profit of $45,000,000 last year from this alone.

"I support the Conservative party," said the speaker, "because I am violently opposed to the conduct of affairs during the last few years. I appeal to you all to hear R. L. Borden and see if he will not strike you as a man who will carry out every plank of the platform, even if he has to resign to do it. A few things the liberals have done.

"Listen to a few facts. Since 1896 over 5,000 square miles of timber land have been given away by the government. If you do not believe in this go to the polls and show it. Over one million of scrip has been granted since 1896. This land is now in the hands of speculators. Fake homesteads are entered and no action taken by the government when they should be cancelled. The Saskatchewan Valley Land company got 250,000 acres of land given them and then the Dominion government told them they could take their pick of a million dollar strip and pay one dollar per acre this land was sold by the company for from $6 to $12 per acre. This comes as near the command 'Thou shalt not steal' as possible. Turn the Liberals out and put the conservatives in. If they are no good kick them out. Until that is done we will not get the proper men in politics. It is time for a change now, and I feel that the people are awaking to the fact."

LIBERAL BRIBERY FUND.

The following letter appeared in the Montreal Star:

"It is instructive as a lesson in sincerity and hypocrisy; and amusing, as expressing the idea of how they think to fool the public, to see some of the news papers making so much noise about the Quebec district contribution to the conservative party for last elections. It would not be hard to prove, despite Mr. Fielding's solemn and sworn protestation of ignorance, that the Liberal campaign fund in Nova Scotia last general election was between $350,000 and $400,000 more, I would venture to say, than the conservative fund for the whole Dominion of Canada. There are but eighteen seats in Nova Scotia.

Every body knows that the sale of a certain railway provided an election fund for the liberals of about a million dollars.

Every one knows that just previous to election day, in November 1904 the banks in Montreal transferred enormous sums of money to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for the liberal managers. Many people knew too, that estimates of the finance minister, who know what the banks are doing, and what it is being done for, swaggared from one Montreal bar-room to another waging two to one that Mr. Borden would be defeated in Halifax, and then the Liberals would have an overwhelming majority in Nova Scotia. We know too that just before his departure from Ottawa for Nova Scotia that Mr. Fielding boasted to his colleagues that not one conservative member would return from Nova Scotia. How did he know? Was it because the plans had been perfected for a grand campaign of bribery, ballot box stuffing and list robbing in Nova Scotia? Had he assurance of men whose methods he knew from passed experience."

Up to the close of last year the Panama Canal has cost the United States nearly $5 million dollars. Of this sum $5 millions went to buy out the French company and over 5 millions for administration and sanitation, while less than 10 millions are set down to actual construction, though over 12 millions have been expended on plant. But the work of construction is said to have made better progress during 1907.

The coroner's jury have found that in the construction of the Quebec bridge "all necessary precautions were taken." Indeed "Necessary precaution" for what? For ensuring the safety and salary of the Pooh Bah President? Or the safety of the workmen? Which? The event shows which.

New Zealand is a new country and has inaugurated many new ideas in government, among them being compulsory arbitration. This was all right in good times when it helped to raise wages but it is receiving a jolt just now when it results in reducing wages occasionally. The workman declines to take a cut in wages, the law is called in and he is fined, but still refusing to pay the fine, he is imprisoned. Thus a man being imprisoned because he refuses to work at a lower figure than he thinks fair, is returning to the old days of serfdom.

EAST EDMONTON SCHOOL BURNED.

The residents of the East Edmonton school district lament the loss of their fine new school building by fire on Saturday morning Sept. 12. Nobody apparently knows what caused the fire. About 5 o'clock in the morning Mr. N. Girard and other farmers in the settlement noticed the smoke and flames and discovered that the building was then too far gone to be saved from complete destruction. The school was a new one erected last year at a cost of about $2000 and its loss will be severely felt by the district.—Strathcona Plaindealer.

Town Council.

The regular meeting of the town council was held Thursday evening last. Present Councillors Botterill, Tallman, Gaetz and Stephenson. Mayor H. H. Gaetz in the chair.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From L. W. Irving M. D., Provincial Health Officer asking if a Medical health officer had been appointed for Red Deer. Information given in the affirmative.

From R. M. Bell re taxes. Filed.

From Western General Electric Co. stating some of the lights of the town were found burning contrary to agreement. The company asked for an explanation and said an extra charge would be made for over time.

Councillor Botterill said it might be a good idea for the town to keep tab on air lights as many times they were not burning and the company should make up the difference.

From J. Carlyle Moore with drawing offer said to be made to council by Mrs. Moore, allowing sewer to run through her property. Filed.

From James Jensen, Innisfail, asking for a copy of building by-law.

From W. J. McLeod asking the commissioners if possible to attend the meeting of the Brigade Thursday evening to discuss the question relating to raising.

The secretary was instructed to inform the Brigade that the commissioners would meet a committee of the brigade at the commissioners office at any time convenient to the said committee.

W. D. Beck, K. C. Edmonton, wrote regarding difficulty between H. Reinhold and town re account for extra work on sewers. The mayor thought there would be no trouble to adjust matters as soon as a meeting could be arranged between Mr. Beck and the council.

The Brigade had pictures of the King and Queen, they would like the council to frame same.

Some discussion took place regarding the Red Deer Cemetery. The mayor contended that plans should be conducted through the Town Clerk's office. He favored having a portion of the ground set aside for the use of those who could not afford to buy plots for their dead. Money for plots should be paid in advance.

Councillor Tallman thought there should be a stove put in a small building where a person could keep from freezing in the winter when waiting for a funeral.

Some discussion took place as to where the weigh scales should be placed. Councillor Botterill moved seconding by Councillor Stephenson that the matter of setting up the town weigh scales be left to the commissioners and that they be erected on the south side of Ross Avenue. Carried.

Councillor Tallman drew attention to the mill difficulty and hoped it would soon be settled amicably, as the town was badly in need of a place to get gristing done. He desired to know if the removal of Mr. Greene as liquidator would make any difference to town claim.

The mayor could not see as that would make any difference. Council adjourned.

Mrs. T. B. Lafferty, of Seattle, is in Red Deer visiting her sister Mrs. W. P. Helliwell.

Mr. Geo. Owen, southeast of town, brought in a turnip yesterday measuring 37 inches in circumference. This takes the cake so far and is a dandy. The turnip is of the Milan variety and is grown for table use.

Cecil Hewson while moving the coal shoot at the station last week had his leg badly bruised and it was thought to be broken at one time.
